THE South-

Carolina GAZETTE.

October 30th, 1752. [NUMB. 959.]

Abstracts from the WESTMINSTER JOURNALS, of June 6th, 13th, 20th, and 27th, and July 4th and 11th.

LONDON, July 6.

LETTERS from Bruſſels, ſay, that the conferences lately opened there are happily carried on, and that an unanimity appears amongſt the plenipotentiaries of this congreſs; but many people think, theſe will form a ſecond volume to thoſe begun at Paris between the courts of Great Britain and France, about limits in America, and to the diſputes that reciain ever ſince the treaty of Aix between the miniſters of France and Holland. As in theſe conferences, the execution of the barrier treaty is to be principally conſidered, people are very deſirous to know how this intereſting point can be ſettled to the ſatisfaction of the Empreſs queen and the States General. People are very attentive to the conduct of the court of Verſailles, who would have wriggled itſelf into this treaty; and to ſee how the king of Pruſſia and elector Palatine will behave, in relation to certain worn-out pretenſions, we are told, they are deſirous of reviving.

June 13. The king of Poland, it ſeems, is for Frauſtadt, to ſign the univerſalia for convening the general diet of the kingdom. This diet is compoſed of the ſenate, prelates, palatines, caſtellans, and great officers of ſtate; and of the repreſentatives of the counties and towns; ſits only 6 weeks, but often breaks up in a tumult; one diſſenting voice obſtructing any meaſure or propoſal, from what quarter ſoever it comes.

The empreſs queen and the cantons of Switzerland, have agreed upon a congreſs to be held at March next month, to adjuſt all differences between them about limits. Every thing is prepared at Berlin, for the reception of the Princeſs Wilhelmina of Heſſe Caſſel, who is to be married to Prince Henry, 2d brother to the King of Pruſſia.

Several more proteſtants have been lately ſent to priſon at Montpellier, for holding religious aſſemblies: Among thoſe who are ſettling at Geneva, in Switzerland, and in the King of Pruſſia's dominions, who grants them great privileges, are a abundance of workmen in the ſilk and velvet manufactures.

June 20. A negociation is on foot between the courts of Vienna and France, in relation to trade; including not only Germany, but alſo that of the Auſtrian Low-Countries — A certain general officer in the ſervice of one of the principal courts of the empire is demanding diſmiſſion, in order to enter into that of Pruſſia.

June 27. They write from Vienna, that lord Hyndford has demonſtrated to that court the practicability of chuſing a King of the Romans. But, it's pretended, that he demands in return many advantages, both for the houſe of Hanover and the Britiſh commerce. —— The pretenſions of their Britannic and Pruſſian majeſties, upon Weſt-Friſeland, become every day more ſerious. French refugees daily paſs by Francfort, to ſettle in the Pruſſian dominions, and thoſe of other proteſtants princes.

July 4. The whole kingdom of Denmark applauds their king's happy choice of a queen: Fame proclaims their new intended queen, a lady of moſt rare and excellent qualities both of perſon and mind; and thoſe who have had an opportunity of ſeeing her, confirm the glorious teſtimony.

On the 24th of June the Princeſs Wilhelmina of Heſſe-Caſſel, arrived at Charlottenburgh, where his Pruſſian majeſty received her in perſon: And the next day ſhe was married to Prince Henry.

The civil war at Tunis continues.

Beſides the meaſures taken for making Trieſte a free port, others are taken for the advantage of the place itſelf. The water of a ſpring at ſome diſtance, is brought by an aqueduct into the middle of the city, and there forms a fine fountain. The number of the inhabitants is conſiderably increaſed: And the port, which is every day more frequented than other[illegible] is now covered by a citadel.

The maſter of a ſhip arrived at Leghorn from Tripoli, reports, that the dey, in order to prevent a bombardement had ordered [illegible] to M. de Reveſt, commander of the French ſquadron, [illegible] he demanded, and has promiſed for the future [illegible] reſpect to the French flag. This dey has [illegible] caduceus to M. de Reveſt, who ſoon after [illegible] Toulon.

London, July 11. People's leaving their native country to ſojourn in a ſtrange land, is now become quite fashionable. It is not religion, which is at preſent the pretence, but miſery and want: People being over burthened with taxes, and not longer able to ſubſiſt in the Biſhopric of Wurtzburgh, many of them have come down the Rhine, moſt roman catholicks, in order to go and people Nova Scotia. In like manner, ſeveral families daily leave Lorrain, to ſettle in the dominions of their old ſovereign, or thoſe of the empreſs queen. In ſhort, Languedoc, Dauphine, and Provence, are depopulating, which, indeed is occaſioned by the perſecution that the intendants are renewing againſt the proteſtants of thoſe provinces, where they ſwarm; and from whence they retire into Switzerland, Neufchatel, and even to Berlin.

Boſton, September 25. Tueſday laſt a ſhip arrived here from Holland, with about 300 Germans, men, women and children, ſome of whom are going to ſettle at German town (a part of Brain tree) and the others in the eaſtern parts of this province. 'Tis ſaid about 40 children were born during the paſſage. Among the artificers come over in this ſhip, there are a number of men ſkilled in making of glaſs, and an houſe proper for carrying on that uſeful manufacture, will be erected at Germantown as ſoon as poſſible.

Yeſterday his majeſty's ſhip Succeſs, Lord Colvill Commander, ſailed from this port for England.

Boſton, October 2. Friday laſt Capt. Nichols arrived here from Halifax, and bro't with him forty five French ſoldiers, who had deſerted from their camp near Chignecto; and we hear, that there is a diſpoſition in great numbers of others to deſert, as they can find opportunity. Thoſe come to town are young likely hearty fellows, and well cloathed, and propoſe to work with ſuch perſon, in town or country as incline to employ them. Several of them are already engaged and gone into the country.

We have Advice from Halifax, that a brigt. was arrived there from London, with a number of dollars and a quantity of copper half-pence, for the uſe of the government there.

We are alſo informed, that his excellency Governor Cornwallis intends to embark for England the 17th of October.

New York, October 2. Capt. Carr who arrived here laſt tueſday night from the Muſceto-Shore, informs us, that the Spaniards, by the help of ſome of their Jeſuits, have been endeavouring to get the Indians to riſe in one night, and cut the throats of all the Engliſh ſettlers there, and that their plot was nigh ripe for execution; but ſome letters that were wrote to the Indian king, being intercepted, the whole ſcene of villainy was diſcovered, and they immediately went in ſearch of the Jeſuits, who were the heads in this Spaniſh like contrivance.

By a veſſel laſt week from Virginia, we have a paper of propoſals from the noted Tom Bell; wherein he propoſes to publiſh a genuine and perfect account of all his adventures for upwards of 20 years paſt; with a view of raiſing a ſum of money to put himſelf in ſome reputable way of buſineſs; being, as he ſays, fully determined to reform his life; and hopes the expoſing of his miſdeeds may ſerve as warnings for others to avoid the ſame; and 'tis ſaid he has already met with great encouragement from the gentlemen in Virginia.

New York, October 16. By Capt. Taylor from Antigua, we are informed, that General Matthews arrived there the firſt of Auguſt, and after a very ſhort illneſs, died in a few days after; his corps was interr'd in a very magnificent manner, attended by moſt of the principal gentlemen of that iſland, who all teſtified their ſorrow for the loſs of ſo worthy a General.

Philadelphia, October 2. The number of veſſels in our harbour being counted yeſterday, they amounted to 96, of which 42 are ſhips.

By Capt. Elliott, arrived laſt week at Elizabeth-Town, in about 14 days from Barbados, we hear that Admiral Knowles, in the Wager man of war, from England, in company with another man of war ſtation'd at Barbados, arrived at that iſland the 27th of Auguſt, and was to ſail again in two or three days for his government in Jamaica.

Philadelphia, October 19. Laſt week arrived here Capt. [illegible] from Londonderry in 6 weeks, who informs us, that HENRY BEDON continues the Buſineſs of a Cooper and Packer, at his Shop in the Alley fronting Mrs. Gibbes's Wharf, and hopes for the Continuance of that cuſtom he was formerly favour'd with: And, as his Books of Accompt for Eveleigh's and Gibbes's Wharfs, were loſt in the Hurricane, he begs ſuch gentlemen as uſed the ſame will be kind enough to give him accompts of what goods, &c. each reſpective perſon had landed, as ſoon as poſſible, that he may be enabled to give them two credits for one ſold, according to Act of Aſſembly, as the Records of the ſaid Wharfs were alſo loſt in the ſaid Hurricane. — N. B. The ſaid Bedon has to ſell, a large Quantity of Lime, and a few thouſand feet of Plank, lately landed about 8 miles from Georgetown, at which a large Sloop may lie and load; the other at Town.

SAMUEL PRIOLEAU, Clerk.

As I am under a necessity of settling my Affairs, must beg the favour of all those who are indebted to me to make the same with Mr. William Logan on or before the 15th day of January next. But as the late unseasonable weather may prevent some persons from paying by that time, a further indulgence will be given, on giving sufficient security; and as disagreeable as it is to me to be obliged to comply herewith, those who neglect may expect to find their accounts, &c. in the hands of Mr. Logan, after that day.

WILLIAM LOGAN.

As the Violence of the Inundation, by the late hurricane, burst open the doors of the surveyor-general's office, whereby all the original warrants of survey, the plats surveyed by virtue of them, the books in which they were recorded, &c. were in part or late less of salt water, and are at present in a perishing condition, and some burnt or carried away by the torrent which rag'd in the said office, notwithstanding the utmost care was taken to save them, and even since to render them useful by the subscriber; who thinks himself obliged to give this caution thereof, that persons injured thereby, may apply to have their plats or lands drawn graduated recorded again if needful: And such persons who have received plats from the office, and have not received them for want of which there are many necessary if they do not apply for them while they are together, they shall have another survey or a duplicate from the survey direction who surveyed them. Among other things damaged as by the said flood, were two manuscript books in quires stitched, as common paper, one marked Warrant Book containing one hundred and two sheets, both mark'd alphabetically on the inside and the reference the first part with a blank, the second with a red alphabet; the former contained a list of the planters names on the top marked with the initial letter of their surnames, the days of the warrant, the survey, what county, what quit-rent, and when granted; the latter part in like manner alphabetical, being for the grantees in townships, whose quit-rent commences Ten years after the date: The other book contains a successive list of the dates and names of those who have had warrants of survey from the honourable the lieutenant governor, and his present excellency the governor, and the same alphabetically digested in columns, containing the owner's name, date, and quantity of the warrant, quantity surveyed, by whom, where, and when, the days of the survey, when and to whom delivered, the book and folio where recorded, and when granted, from April 1743, to September 1752. If said books or either of them are returned into the said office, whole and legible, the person returning them shall have FIFTY POUNDS for each, from GEORGE HUNTER, Surveyor-General of his majesty's province of South-Carolina and Comptroller of his majesty's quit-rents.

THE plantation on Charles-Town neck about a quarter of a mile from the said town, belonging formerly to William Smith deceased, and for some years rented by Mr. Wm. Grimball, containing about 240 acres of land, so well known as to need no recommendation, to be sold. Inquire of Messrs. Thomas Jones, or Frederic Grimball in Charles-Town, or at Col. John Smith's at Stono.

MRS. Dymond gives this public notice, that having removed to the house lately possessed by Mr. Jacob Crinkes, (further) on the bay, she has to let a convenient dry store and 4 good cellars, a fine bill Lard-table to sell; and the best lodgings and entertainment for gentlemen with good usage.
